

C.10 Duties and Responsibilities of Department Chairs

Date

I. Backgrounds of Candidates for Department Chair

The department chair should hold the Ph.D. or equivalent terminal degree and should be a person of high-ranking qualifications and experience in one of the disciplines represented in the department.

II. Appointment, Tenure, and Evaluation of Department Chairs

The chair is appointed by and serves at the pleasure of the dean with the advice and consultation of the department faculty on recommendation to the president through the provost.

The chair may be awarded tenure as a faculty member, but not as a chair. To be appointed chair, a candidate must be a tenured member of the faculty or eligible to receive tenure in the department.

An annual evaluation of the chair's performance will be conducted by the dean in accordance with procedures the dean establishes in consultation with the chair and the faculty of the department on recommendation to the provost.

III. Selection of Department Chairs

In accord with University employment procedures, whenever a vacancy for a department chair occurs or is about to occur, the dean of that college will consult with the faculty of that department prior to making a new appointment. In cases where an off-campus search is necessary, the dean may ask the department to elect a search committee to which the dean will appoint one or more representatives from outside the department. No person will serve on such a committee who wishes to be considered for the position. The members of the committee will devise and execute a search and will recommend no more than three candidates to the dean. The dean must approve any visits for candidates.

If the position of chair becomes vacant at a time when a regular replacement cannot be appointed, appointment of an acting chair is the prerogative of the dean in consultation with the provost and the department faculty. Only under extraordinary circumstances should a chair remain unfilled for more than one year. Continuance of an acting chair or his/her replacement beyond that length of time should be confirmed after consultation with the provost.

IV. Removal of Chairs

In cases of administrative failure, a chair may be relieved of duties. Such action may be initiated through a written communication to the dean, which must be endorsed by at least two-thirds of the full-time voting faculty of the department. Upon receipt of such communications, the dean will conduct an investigation and will forward the results to the provost. The dean also may initiate steps to have a chair removed, as may the provost. The final determination regarding a chair's removal will rest with the president.

v. Duties and Responsibilities of Chairs

A. General

1. The chair is the administrator of an academic department within a college, responsible to the dean for the total operation of the department.
2. The chair acts in concert with the department faculty and provides leadership in formulating and executing policies of the department to the benefit of students, faculty, and the University at large.
3. It is the chair's responsibility to act as the department's official spokesperson both inside and outside the University, to support the University's mission, and to carry out the decisions of the higher administration and the Board of Trustees.
